

The four portals

Kasey

Do you think someone is so intelligent that he or she could invent something so that you could travel in time or in history? This is what happened when a boy wanted to travel through time in history so he made four portals that could bring him through time.

I found this place where there are four portals and it was so majestic and famous that people made a statue of the four portals and even put the picture of the four portals on stamps because stamps travel on the envelope and a boy travelled in these portals. If you want to know this story, then stick with me.

So it all started when someone wanted to time travel to some places in the past. His name was Sammy. He was tempted to do it even though his parents said it was too dangerous but he somehow built four portals so he could explore everything that might have happened during the past. Sammy was excited no one could stop him from going. Even though his mom said he could have chocolate fudge and it was his favourite but he didn't want fudge because he was more excited to go in a portal so he jumped in the first portal.

It took a long time to get to the place he built the portal to go to but he finally made it. He ended in this place with tons and tons of snow. He shivered because he was cold and he certainly wasn't prepared for this so he did everything he could to keep him warm; tuck his arms into his shirt and keep on walking. He hoped to find a safe and warm place to stay because he was getting hungry and thirsty.

Sammy walked and walked until he felt like his feet were pulling bricks. He saw a building in the distance and trudged his feet forward towards the building. Sammy opened the door to the building and walked inside.

Inside, Sammy saw a lot of people wearing big, fat, furry coats and they were heading out a back door. Sammy knew he shouldn't talk to strangers but he did anyway, "Excuse me," Sammy tugged on an adults coat. He timidly spoke to the last adult going out. "Do you have a coat for me? I am very poor." The adult stopped and turned around and saw Sammy. He turned back to the adults and told them about Sammy. The other adults froze and turned around; they saw Sammy curl in to a ball to keep him warm.

"You are very lucky, child. We have exactly one mini coat left for unexpected children if the children unexpectedly come here. There you go, now put it on, you must be freezing." The leader of the group said. "May I ask you, how did you get here? You look like you don't belong here." The leader asked.

Sammy didn't know what to say, he couldn't just say that he travelled here from going inside a portal; they wouldn't believe him so he just told a lie, "My parents abandoned me so I kept on walking and I got cold so I walked in here." Sammy never lied in the real world so he felt terrible that he lied to an adult.

"Would you like to follow us?" The leader asked. Sammy shook his head and ran out the door so he could get out of this place and go exploring in the other three portals. Sammy headed for the portal and got ready to jump in. As he neared the portal, he yelled goodbye and in he went in the portal to get to the real world.

Sammy didn't really like that adventure and when he got back, no time has passed. So he had plenty of time to adventure in every portal. He had to go to the second portal and adventure in that one.

As he entered the world, Sammy wondered what new adventures he would come across. Sammy knew he would enter the world in ten seconds so he took his time to wonder all the stuff until he entered the world and saw a pirates crew huddled around a map. Sammy then overheard one of the pirates talking about a hidden treasure lost in the woods. Then he saw them go in the forest and start looking for the treasure so Sammy ran straight towards a pirate and said, "I could help you look for the treasure." The pirate nodded and told the other pirates about Sammy and they all agreed that another pairs of eyes could help them look for the valuable treasure.

Sammy regretted saying that so if he found the treasure he would sneak it in his pocket and go to the third portal. He looked in every single place until he found the treasure hidden in the dirt. He took the tiny box and escaped in the portal.

Sammy came back and realized that whatever he brought back from the worlds hidden in the portals, will disappear once he gets back to the real world just like the coat from the first adventure. Then he went to the third portal and jumped in.

He didn't expect this because the other portals made him land on solid ground but in this adventure he ended up in a flying canoe with adult men. Suddenly Sammy wondered how to get home because he couldn't get down from the canoe. Then as he was going to jump down, he saw a demon face float in the air and whisper something to all the men. Sammy felt like he was in a horror movie and he wanted to escape. He saw a ladder so he took it and tried to climb down the ladder but of course, the canoe was moving so it made it harder to get down. Sammy had an idea so he jumped down.

Sammy used the ladder to slow his fall and land right on his feet. He wanted to go back to his safe house but he had one more adventure so he headed home in the portal. Once Sammy got back, he went through the last portal.

It was another cold world so he decided to go back but at the same time, wanted to explore. Sammy decided to explore until he got super cold so he could go home. Sammy saw nothing exciting so he headed towards the portal but a polar bear was blocking his way. "Excuse me, Mister polar bear, I have to get back home." Sammy said. Magically the polar bear listened to Sammy and moved out of the way. Sammy wanted to keep warm so he hugged the polar bear and went through the portal. When he got back, everyone found out about the portals and what happened to Sammy. Sammy was now a famous boy and his portals made him really popular at school so he was glad to have made these portals and since the portals made him travel, the picture of portals ended up on stamps. Sammy really liked that day and still got his fudge.
